

Spirit Movers

Chapter 4: The Facet of Relationships--Handout

Standard: The leader is responsible for the character and quality of interactions between himself and others in the organization.

Spirit Mover: Love; A love of humanity—deep connection as human beings; giving and forgiving. “Leadership without love is like a body without a heart.”

Points to Ponder:

- Leaders can develop a deep understanding of the gifts and talents of others through building and nurturing relationships.
- People make things happen and bring to life visions, missions, and purposes.
- Develop a caring environment that elevates the human spirit so that everyone feels the importance of their contributions, both individually and collectively.
- Note: This is not a one-way process: the culture of the organization can also impact a leader.
- Perhaps the most challenging relationship is with ourselves

3 Levels of Relationships that will help reveal the essence of a leader. It is helpful to know and understand what it means to function at each level.

Informed Level: Independent- page 37

Intentional Level: Collegial-page 38

Inspired Level: Interdependent-page 39